

Featured Project: Park Lane Staircase, London

Stone Type: Limestone

As part of the conversion of this existing building to luxury flats, a new entrance and staircase were designed to service all levels of the development.

Stirling Stone were contracted to design, supply and install a new limestone pen-check staircase.

Due to the non-uniform floor levels and stair widths, the attention to detail both in design and manufacture were critical to the success of this project.

