

Featured Project:

Aurora House, Glasgow

Stone Type: Limestone

This distinctively designed office building stands on the north side of Bothwell Street in the heart of the city centre. The main frontage is hand-fix clad in limestone.

It incorporates a stunning double-height entrance with limestone floor and wall finishes. The building won the British Council's Regional Award of Best Commercial Workplace in 2007.

